

one or more coupling arms extending from the tubular coupling body; and coupling elements extending from corresponding coupling arms adapted to mate with corresponding outer tubular member and inner tubular member slots.

Page 2 of 5